Two New Cottages Nearing Completion

Great interest has been centered on the northern end of the campus for the last several months. Not only has there been a church erected on the east side of the highway, but across the road on the west side two new cottages were being built for the use of the children. Nestled in the wooded area, these two buildings will be in readiness for occupancy shortly. Considerable time and thought was given to the planning of the cottages in order that they might adequately serve the needs of the children who would dwell within them. They are of low, one-story, fireproof construction, with as many homelike features as could be incorporated in them. Sixteen children can live in each building and there will also be room for two adults. There will be a lovely living room with open fireplace, a dining room and a kitchen and a utility room for the housemother's use. The kitchen will be equipped with a stove, refrigerator, and washing machine. The dining room at the present will be used for a playroom because the central dining room in Rumple Hall will continue to be used. However, if the plan should be changed these buildings would be self-contained in that they are now ready for homelike living. The interior of these buildings will be different from the institutional type. There will be varying colors for walls and floors. In these buildings the dreams of many years are being realized. There has been a plan at Bar-

Church Joins In Special Services

A week of special services has been planned by the minister and session for the congregation of Little Joe's Church. Sharing in the simultaneous service of the Synod of North Carolina, the members of this congregation will be in special prayer for this campus and for the whole Synod.

Reverend Irving Rudolph, pastor of the Presbyterian Church of Shepherdstown, West Virginia, will be the guest preacher. Special interest in the service is being shared by the cottage members and prayer services prior to the meeting will be conduct-by the minister.

Workers Conference Held In Charleston

The Southeastern Conference for Workers in Children's Homes held its annual meeting in Charleston, S. C. in February. This Conference is made up of the former Tri-State Conference and the adjoining areas. Originally, the Tri-State was composed of North and South Carolina and Georgia. The boundaries have been enlarged so as to include the adjoining States and interested persons who share in this Conference which has a fifty-year history back of it.

Attending from Barium Springs were Mrs. C. E. Hager, Miss Marjorie Felder, Miss Winifred Ferguson, from the housemother's staff, and the superintendent, A. B. McClure. In addition to the regular program of inspiration and instruction, the business session afforded considerable interest as resolutions were adopted. Perhaps the most important resolution adopted was the one wherein a committee was appointed to explore with the Child Welfare League of America the possible relationship of this Conference to the Child Welfare League and the relationship of the individual members of this Conference to the Child Welfare League. This committee will make this ex-

Death Takes Caseworker's Father

Funeral services wre held on Sunday afternoon, February 27th, for Horace L. Carpenter of Rutherfordton, N. C. Miss Rebekah Carpenter, the caseworker for the Home, had been called to Rutherfordton ten days prior to the death of her father because of his serious illness.

Mr. Carpenter had been given a long life and through the eighty-two years had distinguished himself as a noble citizen and as an humble servant of God. Friends of all races visited the home to pay honor to their deceased friend. The funeral services conducted by the pastor who was assisted by two other ministers of the community found the church filled to overflowing with those who had come, not only in memory of the deceased but in loving tribute to the other members of the family.

Open House Held At Manse

The members of Little Joe's Presbyterian Church and the entire Barium family, together with friends of the community, were invited to an open house at the Presbyterian Manse. Rev. and Mrs. R. R. Collins, having recently occupied their new residence, were anxious to have the friends in the community see their new home.

In the afternoon the smaller children of the Home were invited to visit the minister and his wife and in the evening hours the older boys and girls and adults members of the congregation and community attended the function. All of the guests joined the pastor and his wife in expressing their delight in the new building. It was especially planned by the Home and the Barger Construction Company to be an adequate dwelling for the minister and his family. It is a one-story building, situated on a lot just north of the new church building, and is built out of the same kind of brick that were used in the church itself. Thus, this new church and the new home for the minister blend harmoniously and bid fair to be well received by all who have the opportunity to visit them.

Regent's Daughter Wins Scholarship

The announcement has been made that Lila McGeachy, a senior in the Statesville High School, has been awarded first place in a competitive scholarship contest of the Presbyterian Church, U. S., as conducted by its Board of Education. The winner is the daughter of the Reverend and Mrs. Neill R. McGeachy of Statesville. Mr. McGeachy is the pastor of the First Presbyterian Church of that city and a member of the Board of Regents of the Presbyterian Orphans' Home. His second term of eight years expires with the meeting of Synod in July.

People of the community who know Lila McGeachy feel that the judges have made a most excellent choice in giving her the top award for the year. As she graduates from the high school in the Spring, she then plans to attend Agnes Scott College in the Fall, looking toward becoming a Director of Christian Education in the Presbyterian Church. ## From Little Joe's Church

By

Robert R. Collins, *Minister

Recently we have been making a study of the Sermon on the Mount at our Wednesday evening prayer meetings. Each week I have asked children and adults alike to read a designated portion of this great message of our Lord before coming to our mid-week service. They have also been requested to bring their Bibles with them and together we have sought to put ourselves at the feet of Jesus and let Him speak directly to us, even as He spoke to the disciples in Galilee long ago. A number of our young people have accepted the challenge to memorize in Matthew 5-7 and are now working on this project.

As I prepared to teach and tried to interpret these passages for our congregation at Little Joe's Church I was struck forcefully by the concluding paragraphs in chapter seven. In particular this verse from Matt. 7:21 was impressed upon me. "Not every one who says to me, 'Lord, Lord; shall enter the kingdom of heaven, but he who does the will of my Father who is in heaven," Coming as it does at the close of our Lord's discourse and being followed and illustrated by the parable of the wise and foolish builders, this verse provides the climax and the summary of all that has gone before. For in these words Jesus says with bluntness and force that "obedience" is the key that unlocks the gates to that city not made with hands.

"Under The Steeple", whether it be the steeple of your church or mine, we are prone to feel that it is enough if we sit at the feet of the Master, proclaim Him Lord, and in reverence (and comfort, if possible) listen to His teachings. This we believe is sufficient, it makes us Christians and causes us to fulfill our duty to God. "Not so!", cry out the words of Christ, and with repeated emphasis He declares it is ". . he who does the will of my Father who is in heaven" that shall be counted as the child of God.

So the task of serving Christ is never simple, never easy! To discover the will of God and obey it, as individuals and as a family within the church, is our aim. Providing adequate teaching of the Bible in our church school, making Christ known through group worship, searching for the answer to the deeper questions of life through our youth organizations, and proclaiming the truth of God through every possible channel, all of this is a part of the work at Little Joe's Church. It is a part of the task committed to every Christian by our Lord.

Yet, there is one thing more. It is this. The commitment of every adult to endless task of finding the will of God for his life, and joyfully obeying. Our actions will speak when our words fail. Here, at Barium Springs, we see day by day the truth of God that though we "speak with the tongues of men and angels, and have not love", and show not love, it is nothing. The question that confronts each of us is, "What have I done in obedience to the will of God?" Under our steeple we are seeking to learn the lesson of obedience. We earnestly beseech you, our brethren in Christ, to pray for us that we may be found faithful.

Infirmary

Hi Folks!

This is your Infirmary reporter back on the news again after several months of absence.

Much has happened since you last heard from us. For instance: winter has come and is now fading as spring reaches in with her March winds and April showers, the new buildings are beginning to get those finshing touches, the new inside one will find there is still much more work to be done.

There was a Flu epidemic here during Christmas and we all were as busy as bees down here at the Infirmary but we can thank our lucky stars it did not happen during basketball or it is highly doubtful that our season would have ended so well.

Incidentally the Infirmary can boast of three of its girls having been on the varsity this year. They were: Shelby McEwen, Nellie Sellers, and Shirley Johnson. Our other little nurse Janet Woodall was on the junior varsity so you can well see what athletic nurses they raise here.

Thats' all the news we have to offer you this month. See you again next month.

—Your Infirmary reporter

Baby Cottage

Hi Folks,

It has been a long time since you have heard from us.

We have two new boys, James Dennis and Jimmy Everette. We are happy to have them.

We went to see "Three Ring Circus" with Jerry Lewis and Dean Martin which we enjoyed very much.

We have been getting our laundry and supplies with a smile. Keep up the good work Mrs. Potts.

Saturday night we had pancakes for supper and James, one of the new boys, said, "Oh goody lasses," when we started to put syrup on his pancakes.

Mr Everette is going to bring us a T V when he comes next week. And since we are the only ones on the campus that does not have one we will be waiting for it and will appreciate it very much.

—Baby Cottage Girls

Quad News

Well, we have always heard of "Indian Summer", now we have experienced one. A few days ago it was so hot that several boys got sun burned. then a cold spell set in and we had to drag out our winter clothes again. It has started to get warm once again and we hope it will stay this way.

Only nine weeks now and the seniors will be through. We are really counting the days, however, with all the things we have to do between now and graduation, many of us, I think, will want a few more days added to it.

The five boys in the senior class show no evidence of being diamondly-interested in over two or three girls, but there are several girls who are already sporting their polished stones.

The boys are looking forward to next July, when the Synod meets and they get to sleep in the barnloft in the hay. I hope they have a good time.

A lot of the boys tried to break the record set by Frank Selby last year, but not only could they not break it, they couldn't even bend it. Campbell, Barium's strong man couldn't do it. Now that the last ball has swished through the net, and the score has been rung up, we have started to get our skates in working order. I think we will be using them soon.

Well, I guess I'll close now, the baby is crying for his bottle and it is almost time for me to go slop the pigs.

—Lee Roy Norman.

Print Shop

It has been a long time since you have heard from us. we are still doing the printing necessary for the Home.

Basketball season is over and spring is here and time for softball. Our boys were fifth place in the conference while our girls clinched second place behind Statesville girls. It will soon be time for the basketball banquet which everyone enjoys. We had two boys on the varsity team they were James Woodall and Mirton Cox. Richard Blackburn and Tom Finley made the Junior team.

We were very fortunate last month. A man from Washington, D. C. came and made a movie of the campus. The printing shop boys got in it. We are going for our screen test at Hollywood after school is out. He is coming back at graduation to finish and have it ready by July.

Our church is coming along fine. The steeple is up and the seniors are still hoping that it will be ready by May for graduation time. We have two new cottages almost finished also. They will be ready soon to be moved into.

We really had a treat the other week. Mr. Kyles, our bossman, took us down to his house for dinner. It was the best meal I believe we ever ate. We sure did appreciate Mr. Kyles taking us out for dinner.

There are only nine more weeks left till graduation. We will lose one boy on the printing shop. We sure will miss Mirton when it comes time to get a "Messenger" out.

It will be a busy time at the printing shop from here on out. We have an annual to put out and three more "Messengers" before graduation. We hope to be able to do all this in the nine weeks left.

Since we had the movies made Richard "tootie" Blackburn has become a real actor. He thinks he is better than Clark Cable in love affairs. Tom Finley thinks he can act better than Gene Autry. Our newest pal is Red Jean Sellers.

Well, news is short. We will see you in April Messenger if we don't pull an April fool on all our readers.

Rumple Hall

Hi Folks,

The Rumple Hall Girls went to a show Friday night. The name of it was Black Knight. It was real good. Barbara Porter went to see Mr. Collins. She saw some pictures of his baby. A man came up here to take some Pictures of the campus. We are having dresses made for Easter. All America's beautiful girl just came by. Diana Kiser and Virginia Kiser.

Barium Loses In Conference Tourney

At the conclusion of the regular season, the girls' team was in second place in the standings with the boys in fifth place. Since the four top teams for boys and girls in the Northern group of the South Piedmont Conference were invited to play in the tournament, the girls landed a berth but the boys were unable to make it. In the opening game of the tournament the Barium girls played the Kannapolis girls. A close battle raged during the entire game with Kannapolis girls emerging with a six-point victory, thus eliminating the Tornadoes from further competition in the tourney.

The championship for the girls did remain in the Northern Division of the South Piedmont Conference and in Iredell County. The girls' team from Statesville went through with only one defeat in the regular season's play and then ended up as champions of the South Piedmont Conference in the tournament played at Lexington.

Boys North Group

Forwards—Jimmy Tatum of Asheboro; Butch Allie of Statesville; Fred Peacock of Lexington and Leroy Scercy of Kannapolis.

Centers—Donald Redding of Asheboro and Dwight Bumgarner of Lexington.

Guards—Larry Bulla of Asheboro; Wayne Williamson of Asheboro; Frankie Gross of Lexington and Don Williams of Winecoff.

In other selections, Lincolnton's girls—winner of the Westtern Conference South Group regular season, Western Conference tournament championship and the Westtern North Carolina High School Activities crown—placed four girl on all-tournament and all-conference seletions. Forwards Maybelle Aderholt and Donnie Smith along with Guards Shirley Michael and Allie Bost were named to the all-star positions.

Angell Pennell of Taylorsvile was named to the Western Conference All-Tournament team and the North of the Western conference all-conference team. Nancy Wilson of Taylorsvile made the all-conference selections.

Wayne Young of Mooresville was picked for a forward slot on the all-conference team of the South Piedmont Group.

winning of honors is nothing new for this young lady because all along the way she has distinguished herself as a very competent and capable Christian leader. She has held the presidency of the Youth Fellowship within her own church and has been president of the Senior High Fellowship Council of Concord Presbytery. Many honors have been afforded her during her high school career and at the present time she is president of the student body. Attractive and talented, Lila McGeachy will continue to bring honor to her parents as she demonstrates her effective Christian living in college and in her field of service after she has finished her educational training.

Two old buildings are beyond repair and must be replaced How grand it will be to have a smaller one-story fireproof building in the place of a three-story inadequate building for small children. With the beginning of two, it is hoped in the next few years that others can be begun. Then the boys and girls of the Home can have their needs more adequately met as they learn to live in smaller groups and in more homelike cottages.
